

The following is a comparison of final league positions (including statistical breakdown) of every league season since we last won the title in 1989/90. On the occasions where more than one manager was in charge, I've used the overall record of the league season as opposed to separating managerial statistics for the simple reason that the added turmoil/short term boost of a change in manager does not accurately represent that manager's record at such an early stage under his tenure.
